SECTION I INTRODUCTION

Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport

The Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (Airport) is among the most unique airports in the United States, serving as a vital transportation link to Alaska and as a vital cargo link between Asia and North America. The largest airport in the state, the Airport supports one in ten jobs in the Anchorage area and is an economic driver in Southcentral Alaska. The Airport ranks fifth in the world for landed cargo weight, handling over 5 million tons each year. Moreover, Alaska's limited ground transportation infrastructure makes air transport of the utmost importance to Alaska residents and visitors alike. The Airport serves almost 5 million passengers each year. Another unique element of the Airport is that it is home to Lake Hood, the world's largest and busiest seaplane base. The Airport is operated by the Alaska Department of Transportation and Public Facilities (DOT&PF).

Located in west Anchorage, the Airport is situated in close proximity to residential neighborhoods (Turnagain, Spenard, and Sand Lake), Downtown and Midtown, and popular recreational lands within the Municipality of Anchorage (MOA). The Airport is surrounded by Knik Arm to the north and west. It is adjacent to several MOA-owned parks including Kincaid, Point Woronzof, and Earthquake parks. The MOA-maintained Tony Knowles Coastal Trail (Coastal Trail) is a popular multi-use trail in the Airport area that traverses Airport and MOA-owned land (Figure 1).
